CEO of Sea Shepherd US Paul Lombard (aka Pritam Singh) is attacking Captain Paul Watson in court for creating Sea Shepherd Origins and using the Sea Shepherd logo in the US, which he claims the exclusivity. More info on the character behind the storm that shakes Sea Shepherd, coming soon.

With your support, we will fight alongside Paul Watson to save Sea Shepherd.

 Sea Shepherd USA renie la base de leur engagement et au lieu de s'en aller pour quelque chose qui leur conviendrait mieux, ils détruisent... Pour une histoire d'image et de business, ils sont ridicules.

#OperationNyambic: Several turtle poaching attempts thwarted by our teams in Mayotte (French department) in recent weeks.

Last weekend, our ASVM teammates arrived just in time to Majicavo Beach 3 (Saziley Beach) to save a sea turtle from a horrific death. The poachers armed with machete had turned the turtle on its back and were preparing to cut it alive. They escaped and the turtle was put back to the scene. She has taken over the sea. The same scene happened a few days ago ... See more

An FAQ will soon be online on the Sea Shepherd Origins website and Sea Shepherd France so that you have a very clear view of the situation. Until then, here are some answers to the main questions we've had since yesterday that were posted on the post dedicated to that purpose.

1/Question: Can we donate to Sea Shepherd Origins (SSO)

Answer: SSO is not collecting donations at this time. It's an organization registered in France that is primarily the "guardian" of Sea Shepherd... See more

With the holiday season approaching, shrimp is still considered a dish of choice. Consumed with bouillabaisse by the French, yet they undergo cruel treatment. In the vast majority of farms, eye ablation is performed on females to accelerate reproduction and generate more profit. Overfished in the wild, amputated in farms, their consumption raises ethical and environmental questions. "We fall into the same traps as in industrialization: profitability at all costs, which takes the ... See more

Un morse ( dont l'ère de répartition naturelle la + proche est le Groenland) se trouve dans le port de Dieppe. Dans son intérêt, merci de ne pas l'approcher et de le laisser tranquille. Il ne semble pas en mauvaise santé et doit pouvoir se reposer sans être importuné. 🙏

Un morse a été repéré, vendredi 18 novembre 2022, dans le port de Dieppe (Seine-Maritime) Il s'y trouvait toujours, tôt ce samedi matin. | PRÉFECTURE DE SEINE-MARITIME

 Les mythiques dauphins roses (Botos) et les dauphins Tucuxis de l'Amazonie sont en grand danger d'extinction. Les études indiquent que leur population diminue de moitié à chaque décennie. Ces dauphins d'eau douce sont victimes de captures dites « accidentelles » et de l'utilisation intentionnelle de leur chair qui sert d'appât pour la pêche au Pir... See more

The small stone dolphin that has been wandering in Sanary harbor for 3 days has not been seen since about 10:00 this morning.

We searched it with our APEX Cetaceas staff all afternoon on about ten nautical miles. No sign of him at all. Hopefully he has reached the sea and found his peers and especially a weaned individual who is no longer dependent on his mother's milk, condition sine qua non for his survival..... See more

 Sea Shepherds Are Saying NO to Rebranding
 Captain Paul Watson and national leaders of Sea Shepherd UK, Sea Shepherd Brasil and Sea Shepherd France are parting ways with Sea Shepherd Global and forming the Sea Shepherd Origins Coalition. Why this split?
 Sea Shepherd Origins aims to counter the maneuvers of those who want to force the organization to change its course and abandon the bold approach that makes it an indispensable player in defending the marine world.
 The current situation is the result of a trial that started in 2018 when Sea Shepherd returns to Iceland to denounce whale hunting. Peter Hammarstedt (Sea Shepherd Global's Board of Directors and Campaign Director) had then opposed the campaign, saying it would bring back memories of the whales we sank in 1986. According to him, it was a controversial past that it was better to forget. Sea Shepherd was now working in partnership with certain states, mainly on the initiative of Peter Hammarstedt, and it was necessary to be careful not to get upset or no government at the risk of damaging these collaborations. His exact words were: "We are currently rebranding."
 The idea that Sea Shepherd should move away from direct action (which by definition is government-supported) has gradually made its way. So far part of the Management, Paul Watson's character has become "The Watson Problem".
 All of the directors of Sea Shepherd (except Alex Cornelissen, Peter Hammarstedt, Geert Vons, Jeff Hansen except Lamya Essamila) as well as US antenna president Pritham Singh went in the same direction and decided to and to back Sea Shepherd from its original DNA. A view that Sea Shepherd's supporters and volunteers are fiercely opposed to, as evidenced by many recent social media reactions.

Shepherd's supporters and volunteers are fiercely guarded by us, evidenced by many even in social media reactions.

We are proud of our long history and proud of what we have accomplished. It's beyond question that we sweep our past under the rug to reassure government bureaucrats who seek to use us to serve their interests while demanding we comply with their expectations that we remain the pavilion of their choice and that we give them. Let's validate all our communications, interviews and images before broadcast.

The shepherd's cross and the trident created by Paul Watson's Jolly Roger tree defines what Sea Shepherd has always been: a provocative, uncompromising and controversial movement never a tool of manipulation at the service of a state bureaucracy.

We have always been a non-governmental organization. We have always been independent and unbreakable.

We have been who we have been since 1977 and we intend to stay.

NO REBRANDING. WE WILL NOT CHANGE.

Those who want to forget who we are believe that the protest will fade, that the new direction will be accepted by all and that the current division will soon be forgotten. But if thousands of people have supported and joined Sea Shepherd around the world, it's for who it was, originally.

Sea Shepherd's calling has never been to provide comfortable jobs for career-oriented individuals. This organization was founded to be led by deeply committed people who will not back down when confrontation is necessary to end the illegal ocean destruction. Sea Shepherd is not a job. It's a responsibility, obligation and duty.

Those who want to continue to support our actions and our combative approach are invited to join the coalition we have just created with Sea Shepherd's national antennas loyal to its original spirit: Sea Shepherd France, Sea Shepherd UK, Sea Shepherd Brazil, plus the new Captain Paul Watson Foundation. We invite other Sea Shepherd national antennas to join us, hoping many will be there and we invite all our well-wishers to support us by signing our Ethics Charter online at www.seashepherdorigins.org. This Charter defines Sea Shepherd values and poses the essential wards to prevent any regeneration of movement.

Sea Shepherd Origins does not replace Sea Shepherd. Sea Shepherd Origins IS Sea Shepherd. This is what Sea Shepherd has always been and should continue to be.

More than $500 of you have signed the Sea Shepherd Origins Ethics Charter. If you haven't, please do so and thank you!

Sea Shepherd Origins is not a risk antenna to Sea Shepherd. It does not raise money. She is the "temple guardian", the soul of Sea Shepherd, and the assurance that Sea Shepherd's antennas that adhere to its core values: integrity and transparency in communication, independence from governments and corporations actions, the way definition of direct action.

Sea Shepherd Origins became a necessity following a hostile Sea Shepherd US OPA with cascading consequences that led to the resignation of Sea Shepherd US's Captain Paul Watson and its eviction of Sea Shepherd's Global Board of Directors by a decade they are directors.

At the moment, the Origins Charter signatories are Sea Shepherd Tami, Sea Shepherd Brazil, Sea Shepherd Canada, Sea Shepherd New Caledonia, Sea Shepherd UK and Sea Shepherd Hungary Office. And of course Captain Paul Watson Foundation. No other Sea Shepherd antenna was willing to sign the charter to date.

But thousands of you have already signed and we thank you. With your support, we can ensure Sea Shepherd stays true to its original DNA, the one that made you want to support us from the beginning. What makes Sea Shepherd so unique: A brave, independent NGO that does not capitulate from confrontation and always puts efficiency before political correctness.

To see which antennas are part of Sea Shepherd Origins and what campaigns are run by these antennas (Operation Dolphin Bycatch, Ocean Killers, Nyamoa, Ghost Nets, Faroe Islands, Iceland, whale hunting, expedition Scientists to save the pink dolphin from Amazonas...) go to www.seashepherdorigins.org

'Sea Shepherd Origins' is a new entity to reinforce the original values and purpose of Sea Shepherd. Established to free Sea Shepherd entities from 'rebranding' and growing restrictions on our trademark campaign style. Sea Shepherd Origins has been created by Paul Watson and several Sea Shepherd leaders specifically for Sea Shepherd entities, crew and volunteers around the world who stand fast for Sea Shepherd.

Sea Shepherd Origins has set up a clear ethics chart, with unbreakable values, clearly defining its rules and mission. The Sea Shepherd entities who join must pledge that they align with the core values and mission statement as founded by Paul Watson, therefore protecting Sea Shepherd for the future.

Sea Shepherd was founded as a frontline, uncompromising, fully independent, direct action marine conservation movement to defend and conserve marine ecosystems and species. Sea Shepherd UK remains strongly aligned with this original mission, which is why we're partnering with 'Sea Shepherd Origins' - an essential non-violent, action movement for our clients - marine wildlife.

To protect the Sea Shepherd movement, Sea Shepherd UK is proud to join Sea Shepherd France and Sea Shepherd Brazil - together with Captain Paul Watson Foundation and other committed Sea Shepherd entities to launch Sea Shepherd Origins - a coalition created by our founder Paul Watson and Sea Shepherd leaders, for Sea Shepherd entities, crew and volunteers who stand fast against threats to the Sea Shepherd legacy.

We invite all Sea Shepherd supporters and entities aligned with our core values to join.

"Find me one whale who disagrees with our actions and I'll promise you we won't do it again." - Cpt. Paul Watson

Take action today:

1. Get to know our original DNA at www.seashepherdorigins.org
2. Are you crew, an onshore volunteer, a supporter? Sign your commitment to Sea Shepherd Origins today and help us defend our values.

 As someone who, 'said what others didn't dare say' on behalf of The Sea Shepherd Fund in Trafalgar Square in 1982, I am so happy and relieved to see the Sea Shepherd name going into the future being true to the original mission. Long may it do so!

Sea Shepherd UK

After Sea Shepherd UK added 'Spectre' to our fleet, we offered the use of RIB 'Shadow' to work alongside our partner charity Fathoms Free's existing boat 'Casper'. This year Fathoms Free have carried out 10 ghost gear recoveries from the sea around Cornwall and we are extremely proud to be part of a collaboration that grew into the 'UK Ghost Gear Coalition' of which we are both founding members. Both Fathoms Free and Sea Shepherd UK share the same passion for protecting the ocean and conserving marine wildlife.

It all began in 2017 when we first worked together to recover ghost gear in Cornwall. A year later, Sea Shepherd UK launched their Ghostnet Campaign, and since... See more

Icelandic Whaling Update:
Kristján Loftsson's harpoon ships are having repairs carried out and a major re-paint at Reykjavik harbour.

During this year's whaling season both Hvalur 8 and Hvalur 9 were showing deterioration with paintwork flaking and rust appearing - and Hvalur 8 (shown in these photos taken yesterday evening by Sea Shepherd Iceland) also broke down with engine issues.

We are at this time assuming that Hvalur hf (the whaling company) does intend to go whaling a... See more

Concern has been expressed about acoustic deterrent technology being deployed via a water scooter (Jet Ski) in a bid to keep seals from salmon on a river.

The new method, aimed at protecting spawning salmon, is being trialed on the River Dee in Aberdeenshire by the Dee District Salmon Fishery Board which hopes it will help combat falling salmon numbers.

Lee Watson of Ythan Seal Watch & Sea Shepherd UK said there were fears water scooters could panic the seals.... See more

📍 Whitburn Beach Clean - 04.12.22
 Report by Senior Volunteer Iain Rowan

A cold and squally morning was no deterrent to our six volunteers (including two newly inducted volunteers) and five members of the public who took twelve bags of debris off Whitburn beach. Alongside were a smashed-up lobster pot, rope, lots of fireworks, dog poo bags (both full and empty), fishing line and floats (and a dead fish, tangled round in plastic).

Sea Shepherd UK · December 2 at 2:26 PM ·

Today is the Birthday of Captain Paul Watson, founder of Sea Shepherd and Sea Shepherd UK. Paul brought Sea Shepherd to the UK in 1983 and has since been an incredible driving force and support in his role as President, inspiring activists and the public to act, to protect wildlife, to defend the ocean and conserve life in our seas for generations to come.

A word from our friends @seashepherdbrasil "I am honoured to work side by side with Captain Paul Watson, and others who will build what Sea Shepherd now represents. Paul Watson's Sea Shepherd is a timeless movement: it continues as necessary today as it did in 1977.

Captain Paul Watson inspires all of us who work at Sea Shepherd: volunteers, veterans, supporters. I am honoured to be able to speak on behalf of this group of people and movement similar to the ocean that our motivation at Sea Shepherd is for continuing to fight for the ocean with the tools that Paul Watson defined since 1977, and what are the tools that the ocean needs most now: the daring and original determination of Sea Shepherd to protect marine life, its independence, its passion, its relentless mission by the ocean." Executive Director, Nathalie Gil

'Sea Shepherd Origins' is a new entity to reinforce the original values and purpose of Sea Shepherd. Established to free Sea Shepherd entities from 'rebranding' and growing restrictions on our trademark campaign style, Sea Shepherd Origins has been created by Paul Watson and several Sea Shepherd leaders specifically for Sea Shepherd entities, crew and volunteers around the world who stand fast for Sea Shepherd.

Sea Shepherd Origins has set up a clear ethics chart, with unbreakable values, clearly defining its rules and mission. The Sea Shepherd entities who join must pledge that they align with the core values and mission statement as founded by Paul Watson, therefore protecting Sea Shepherd for the future.

Sea Shepherd was founded as a frontline, uncompromising, fully independent, direct action marine conservation movement to defend and conserve marine ecosystems and species. Sea Shepherd UK remains strongly aligned with this original mission, which is why we're partnering with 'Sea Shepherd Origins' - an essential non-violent, action movement for our clients - marine wildlife.

To protect the Sea Shepherd movement, Sea Shepherd UK is proud to join Sea Shepherd France and Sea Shepherd Brazil - together with Captain Paul Watson Foundation and other committed Sea Shepherd entities to launch Sea Shepherd Origins - a coalition created by our founder Paul Watson and Sea Shepherd leaders, for Sea Shepherd entities, crew and volunteers who stand fast against threats to the Sea Shepherd legacy.

We invite all Sea Shepherd supporters and entities aligned with our core values to join.

"Find me one whale who disagrees with our actions and I'll promise you we won't do it again." - Cpt. Paul Watson

Take action today:

1. Get to know our original DNA at www.seashepherdorigins.org
2. Are you crew, an onshore volunteer, a supporter? Sign your commitment to Sea Shepherd Origins today and help us defend our values.
3. Have you crewed or worked with a Sea Shepherd entity and have feedback that can help us fix any issues. Get in touch at report@seashepherdorigins.org (you will remain anonymous).

Join the fight to defend Sea Shepherd's legacy and allow us to continue to be relentless in our defence of ocean wildlife. Join with Paul Watson and the coalition @SeaShepherdOrigins

Sea Shepherd Brasil remains strongly aligned with the original mission set out by Paul Watson in 1977. That's why we're partnering with Sea Shepherd Origins an entity that is created to be one more of our non-violent intelligent action plans to respond to yet another threat to the ocean.

Yes, Sea Shepherd is under attack, and the enemy is now coming from within. The recent board of directors for Sea Shepherd USA (known as Sea Shepherd Conservation Society) is moving away from our original mission, and threatening our core values. Sea Shepherd Origins arrives to turn the tables around.

Sea Shepherd Origins was created by organization leaders around the world who firmly defend the decades-old legacy created by Sea Shepherd and Sea Shepherd Brasil: it one of them. Together with Sea Shepherd France, Sea Shepherd UK and others and together with the Captain Paul Watson Foundation, founded this year in the US, we are now part of this movement strengthened by the ocean.

As a first step, Sea Shepherd Origins invites all Sea Shepherd supporters and entities aligned with our core values to participate as well.
